Groundhog or no groundhog this is the week for spring to begin.

Get out your shamrock tomorrow. It will be "St. Patrick's day in the morning."

Senator James and wife will take a trip to Honolulu, sailing from San Francisco March 25.

"Uncle Tinas" Walls, reputed to be 108 years old, died in Wise county, Va., Saturday.

Billy Sunday has arranged for a meeting in Louisville during March and April 1911.

The British commander says the Dardanelles will be reduced by Easter. There are still eight or ten forts to reduce.

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller died Friday in her seventy-sixth year. Her husband was on his way home from Florida at that time.

Wheat closed Saturday two cents higher than the previous week. So far as known, there are only five crops of wheat unsold in Christian county.

The operation on Secretary McAdoo for appendicitis was successful. Mrs. McAdoo waited in the ante-room while the operation was being performed.

The Duke of Brunswick, the Kaiser's son-in-law, has returned from the front suffering from a nervous breakdown that is probably an incurable disease.

Mose Glenn, who is now superintendent of public printing at Frankfort, ought to be too wise an old owl to let his name be used to endorse a patent medicine.

W. W. Cole, once a leading showman of the United States, died in New York Saturday, aged 69. His circus was absorbed by that of Barnum & Bailey several years ago.

A dog appeared at Dunlap, Tenn., carrying a human hand in his mouth and a search disclosed the body of Bob Elliott, a demented man, which had been almost devoured by dogs and hogs.

Things continue to go from bad to worse in Mexico. The latest crime concerning the United States is the shooting to death of a Chicago man named McManus in Mexico City, who objected to the looting of his property by Zapata bandits.

The Kentucky Insurance Federation was organized at Louisville last week. J. M. Morris, Louisville, president, and T. Carter Tiller, Secretary. Paul M. Moore, of Earlinton, is first vice president and Col. J. H. Henry, of this city, is a member of the executive committee.

England's great "spring movement" on the western front is about to be started. It is not among the impossibilities that by the time the fleet batters its way into the sea of Marmora, the Germans will have been driven out of France. But in the meantime, Great Britain continues to get the worst of the submarine warfare, losing seven ships last week.

The formal announcement of Hon. Harry V. McChesney for the Democratic nomination for Governor appears in this issue of the Kentuckian. Mr. McChesney is one of the best-known Democrats in the state, having filled two state offices in recent years. Since his retirement from the office of Secretary of State, he has engaged in the practice of law at Frankfort. Although he is the sixth candidate to enter the contest his personal following is conceded to be strong enough to make it apparent that he will be one of the contending factors in the gubernatorial primary. In a card to the voters Mr. McChesney outlines the issues upon which he will appeal for support.

HOWLING SUCCESS

Was The Model School Friday Night Presented By Local Talent.

SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS

Continous Laugh From Eight O'clock To Half Past Ten.

TEACHER—Miss Jean McKee. PIANIST—Mrs. Pettus White. VISITOR—Miss Ruth Haydon. GIRLS—Dr. E. N. Fruit, Herbert McPherson, Dr. F. P. Thomas, C. E. Woodruff, L. L. Elgin, B. D. Hill Roy Kenner, and Dr. F. M. Brown. BOYS—Emmett Haydon Will Hester, Gabe Campbell, J. M. Neblett, Clarence Harris, J. O. Cook, Sam Adcock, C. R. Clark, T. C. Underwood, Ed Hester and Dr. C. H. Tandy. Not fewer than 3,000 people attended the presentation of the farce comedy "The Model School," at the tabernacle Friday night.

The show was given for the benefit of the Domestic Science Department of the Virginia Street School children. More than $300 was cleared by the show. The performance began with two or three songs. The first was a solo by Gordon Cayce with a chorus of nearly 100 school children. The next was a Tipperary parody written by Mrs. C. H. Tandy, entitled "It's a Long, Long Way To Graduation." Herbert Lee McPherson, Jr., led the chorus. A pretty little speech of welcome was made by little Mary Ethel Harned and then the little folks gave way to the burlesque "pupils." The stage was equipped with school furniture and the fun began as soon as the first pupil arrived.

The costumes of the "children" were grotesque in the extreme. The boys wore knee breeches and jackets while the girls were attired in short skirts of many bright colors, with curls and ribbons galore. There were class exercises, recitations, compositions, play-time games with an occasional fight and the usual line of misconduct such as shooting paper wads, raiding lunch baskets and creating useless noises to annoy the teacher. Miss McKee filled her difficult part in an ideal manner. She kept things going at all times and even took part in the games looking after the comfort of such little "girls" as Dr. Fruit, Charles Woodruff, Roy Kenner and other young things weighing more than 200 pounds.

In the preparation of the program Miss McKee was ably assisted by two other teachers, Misses Lottie McDaniel and Mary Walker.

The condition of Mr. John M. Harris, of Pembroke, had again become critical yesterday. He was getting along nicely from the gunshot wound of ten days ago, but pneumonia developed a few days ago and his recovery was reported as very doubtful yesterday evening.

Missed Each Other.

That Illinois girl who spent a lot of time seeking for a perfect man for a husband, has given up the quest in despair. Probably while she was looking for the perfect man, the perfect man was looking for the perfect girl, and so they missed each other. —Harrodsburg Herald.

KILLED AT A FESTIVAL

George Bell Shot To Death By John Bullock, Near Beverly.

BULLOCK IS IN COUNTY JAIL.

The Tragedy Creates Stampede At a Colored Supper Saturday Night.

During the progress of a negro supper given on the farm of Mr. John D. Jones, near Beverly, Saturday night, a difficulty arose between George Bell and John Bullock and the former was shot and killed instantly. Three shots were fired, two of them taking effect in Bell's neck and breast, and the third bullet hit Lewis Coleman, making a slight flesh wound. The room was filled with negroes when the trouble occurred and the shots caused a stampede.

The authorities were notified and the county coroner went out Sunday morning and held an inquest. Officers also went to the scene of the tragedy and while enroute they met Bullock who was coming to the city, but they failed to recognize the negro. They returned here later in the day and Deputy Sheriff Hammaek and Officer Haydon arrested Bullock near the L & N. railroad and he was placed in jail.

HERE IS A HUSTLER

Who Has Gone Into The Business of Putting Gracey On The Map.

JOHN L. THURMOND.

John L. Thurmond, the well known young traveling man, has returned to his "native heath" and gone into business in Gracey. He has formed a partnership with James Towler, another young live wire, who has been in the general merchandise business at Gracey for two years and the firm of Thurmond & Towler is preparing to make things hum.

Mr. Thurmond was born in this county in 1887 and when a child moved with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Thurmond, to a farm near Gracey, where he grew to manhood. Five years ago he came to Hopkinsville and spent a year learning the hardware business with the Planters Hardware Co. For four years he has been on the road as a representative of the Steel Corporation and gives up a lucrative position to go into business for himself.

The new firm will occupy a double store room recently purchased and the Towler store will be moved into it and greatly enlarged. In addition, a big stock of hardware will be put in. Mr. Thurmond will join his partner in the personal management of the business and they may confidently be counted upon to do things on a big scale.

In addition to being a wide-awake young business man, Mr. Thurmond is something of an orator and his services are always in demand at open sessions of the Elks, of which he is a member, and upon other occasions where oratory is in demand.

LINCOLN BEACHEY

Attempts Stunts In The Air Once Too Often at San Francisco.

FELL 7,000 FEET TO DEATH.

Thousands Witness Accident, Which Follows Thrilling Performance.

San Francisco, March 15.—Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, was killed while making an exhibition flight at the Panama-Pacific exposition Sunday. At an altitude of about 7,000 feet Beachey began a sharp descent. The wings of his aeroplane collapsed and the machine plunged into San Francisco bay.

Beahey was completing his second flight of the day when the accident occurred, in view of thousands of spectators. Having previously electrified the crowd with a series of aerial somersaults, the airman sought to add an additional thrill with one of his sensational perpendicular drops.

The fatal fall was attributed to the fact that Beachey entrusted his life for the first time in several years to a monoplane.

Lincoln Beachey was regarded as the most skillful and daring American aviator. He earned this reputation long before the French flyers began to glide through the air upside down. Beachey was in retirement when these feats were heralded, and was drawn back by his desire to exceed the remarkable flying of the French.

With an aeroplane of small wing surface he flew upside down, made spirals while head downward and looped the loop.

Beachey was born in San Francisco in September, 1887, and made his first flight in 1905 at Oakland, Cal., piloting a dirigible balloon. In 1906 he circled the capitol at Washington. He soared over New York City in July, 1907. His motor failed and the wind whirled the dirigible across the river, wrecking it.

His first heavier-than-air machine, a monoplane, was wrecked at St. Paul in 1910. He made a successful flight in Los Angeles, but then wrecked another flyer.

May 5, 1911, Beachey was the first man to circle the capitol in Washington in an aeroplane. He then startled the world by flying over Niagara Falls. Later he won the first inter-city aeroplane race America, flying from New York to Philadelphia. He was the most prominent figure in the 1911 Chicago aviation meet spiraling at sharp angles.

Early in 1913 Beachey announced that he had made his last flight, asserting that he felt partly responsible for the deaths of nine aviators who had tried to emulate him. When the deeds of the daring French were chronicled he returned to flying. In October, 1913, at Hammondsport, N. Y., his machine swept several spectators from a roof, killing one.

Beachey boasted that 20,000,000 persons had seen him fly.

Churches To Consolidate.

Unanimous resolutions favoring the consolidation of the Central Baptist church with the First Baptist church, the latter congregation taking over all the property of the former, were adopted Wednesday night at a business meeting of the members of the Central church.

A business meeting of the congregation of the First church will be held next Wednesday night, when definite action concerning the consolidation will be taken by that body. —Bowling Green News.

GREATEST RUSSIAN

Count Witte, Former Prime Minister, Died Friday, Aged 66.

London, March 15.—Count Sergius Julovich Witte, Russia's first Prime Minister, died Friday.

Count Witte, who was born June 29, 1849, at Tiflis, was one of the Russian plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth, N. H., in the negotiations for peace with Japan in 1905. He afterwards was made a count and appointed president of the new Ministry, but retired in 1906 and held no important post after that time.

Count Witte was regarded as in some respects one of the most remarkable men his country had produced, but his reputation was even greater abroad than at home. Throughout his career, during which he accomplished much for Russia, he had many and powerful enemies, although his great ability and remarkable capacity for work never was questioned. Regardless of his work as a statesman his chief fame in Russia rests upon his development of manufacturing industries, the expansion of railroads and the placing of the monetary system upon a gold basis.

Although always a firm supporter of the monarchy, he recognized the power of the people and had democratic tendencies. On his father's side his family was of common origin, but his mother was a descendant of the Ruriks, the old rulers of Russia before the election of the Romanoff dynasty.

The Dust Problem.

The dust problem is already confronting the people of the city. The accumulated dirt on the macadam streets, much of it due to it is claimed to oil used last season, is now pulverized into dust and dense clouds are raised by every passing automobile and the dust is blown in every direction. Some who have advocated oil heretofore, now contend that sweeping is the best remedy against dust, to be followed by sprinkling. Last season the oil used by citizens in front of their residences cost them about 12 1/2 cents a gallon and gave out before the end of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hanner and little grandson, William Meacham, will return to their home near Morganfield to-day after a visit of several days to relatives in the county.

GERMANS SINK FIVE STEAMERS

Four British Vessels And One French Destroyed By Elusive Craft.

DAMAGE TO OTHER SHIPS.

Scene of Depredations Is in Main Course Across The Atlantic.

London, March 15.—The submarine U-29, one of the largest and fastest of German underwater craft, has had a successful three days off the Scilly Islands and in the English Channel, where on Thursday, Friday and Saturday she sank four British steamers and one French steamer and damaged three others.

The U-29 was chased by patrol boats, but proved too elusive, while steamers which tried to ram or escape her found the submarine was much faster than similar craft which previously had been preying on Great Britain's overseas trade.

With a German submarine in the waters around the Scilly Islands, which the big liners pass on their way across the Atlantic, much uneasiness is felt in shipping circles and during the course of a day a report which also reached the American liner New York by wireless, was circulated that one had been torpedoed. The report it is believed, arose from the sinking of the Audalasia, which belongs to the Ellerman line.

The British feel they more than evened matters up for the loss of these steamers by the victory at Neuve Chapelle and the defeat yesterday of the Germans in their effort to recover ground gained by the British on the preceding days.

According to a report issued by the war office the Germans Sunday morning delivered several minor attacks and in the afternoon a heavy one, which were all repulsed. The total number of prisoners taken in three days was 1,720, while it is estimated that the total German losses were not far short of 10,000.

British airmen have been active again and have destroyed a train at Don, near Lille.

The Belgian army continues to gain a little ground at the bend of the river Yser, and in Campagne, the Argonne and the Vosges there has been fighting. The Germans again have bombarded Ypres, Soissons and Rheims. In the latter two towns the cathedral suffered.

The French have occupied Embarras, on the railway midway between Luneville and Rixingen, on the borders of the Lorraine.

Some idea of the stubbornness of the western battles, which received only a few words in the daily official reports, can be gathered from the French account of the capture of the village of Vauquois, on the eastern border of the Argonne forest, issued today. For days the French and Germans contended for this village the importance of which, from a tactical point of view, is great, and the losses on both sides must have been much more numerous than in any of the historic battles.

News from the east continues to be scant.

But The Man Is Dead.

John B. McManus, shot Friday in Mexico City by Zapata soldiers, has sealed the door of his house with the United States coat of arms and has the Stars and Stripes flying over his residence, developments show. Early punishment of the murderers has been promised by the Zapata General and the Government has in addition asked for full reparation.

RECORD AS ASSESSING OFFICER

Is Reviewed in Refuting Reckless Charges of Favoritism Toward Big
Corporate Interests Made by Owsley
Stanley—Will Not Enter Into Controversy With His Detractor—Points With Pride to Manner in Which Present Administration of Treasurer's Office Has Overcome Deficit Inherited From Republican Predecessor.Thomas S. Rhea of Logan county, present state treasurer of Kentucky and late chairman of the Democratic state campaign committee, today
makes announcement of his candidacy for his party's nomination. In the August primary election, for the office of auditor of public accounts, by entering the race Mr. Rhea presents to the voters a brief review of his course as a member of the state board of valuation and assessment, the franchise tax board of the state, showing that that body has by unanimous action materially increased the assessment of all the large public service corporations, refuting the reckless charges made by Congressman Owsley Stanley that the board had been influenced in behalf of the corporations.Mr. Rhea also reviews his course in the management of the state'sship upon any legitimate industry. This board, with my active assistance, in the last three years, has increased the franchise valuations upon all the corporations of the state from $48,000,000 to $112,000,000; and four of the largest railroad companies, whose assessments were raised, have enjoined the collection and enrolled the question into the federal courts, where the cases are now pending for a decision. The favorable settlement of these cases in the courts together with the large increases from other corporations which are in the state for an excess of $1,000,000; and the increase of revenues from the same source to the counties, cities, towns and school districts of the state will amount to about $2,000,000 for the same period. Should the courts sustain the action of the board
the revenues made upon the four railroad companies I have referred to, it would add about $1,000,000 more revenue to the state and about $2,000,000 more to the counties, cities, towns and school districts in the same four years.

Explains Single Attack.

Notwithstanding my well known record upon the board in these matters and my efforts to serve the best interests of the people by placing a larger and a just burden of taxation upon the corporations, one man alone in all the state has undertaken to criticize me about the work of the board, and to reflect upon my conduct in connection with it. Mr.
A. O. Stanley, some time ago, in advancing himself as a candidate for the nomination for governor, with his usual disregard for the truth, made an attack upon me and sought to create the impression that the corporations had been favorably treated by the board, and that I and other gentlemen he mentioned
had in some way been responsible for it.
The record and the facts completely dis-prove his insinuations or charges, and show that no franchise board in the history of Kentucky ever made such large increases in the assessments of corporations. Mr. Stanley, one hardly above ignorance of these facts, because they have been discussed in the press and the records of the state a great deal in the last two or three years. I am not a candidate for the same office that he is seeking, nor do I propose to descend into a controversy with him and would not even mention him except for his wantonly attack upon me. The people of Kentucky have learned to know him as a man utterly reckless and unreliable
in the statements or in his charges against other men. The only criticisms that have ever been made about the work of this board have come from those who have complained that we have raised the Cyprus in History.

The island of Cyprus has been a bone of contention among the nations ever since it was taken over by the Romans (58 B. C.), but especially during the last few decades have quarrels centered around it. England has exercised a kind of protectorate, and by dividing the courts of justice and giving the various elements of the population their own courts, something like peace has been established. Here was, however, one of the earliest of the Christian churches, the patriarchate of Cyprus, having been recognized by the council of Ephesus as early as 431.

VICK'S Group and SALVE FOR ALL COLD TROUBLES

Simple Names.

An Eastern reformer has started a crusade against middle names. "Can you imagine a Julius B. Caesar?" he snorts, "or a George F. Washington or a Napoleon McY. Bonaparte?"

The first reference is unfortunate, inasmuch as the gentleman's full appellation was Cæsar Julius Cæsar. He was ashamed of it, however, and set a good example to Thomas Woodrow Wilson and Stephen Grover Cleveland by dropping his front name when he entered public life.

When you come right down to it, two names ought to be enough for anybody. A third name is generally as useless as a third wheel on a bicycle, even if it does look well in a birth notice or a wedding invitation. Of course, the more names a man has tagged onto him, the less likely he is to be mislaid or to have his mail opened by strangers, but even those advantages hardly justify a French mother in giving her helpless offspring Jean Paul Baptiste Francis George Jacques Andre for his Christian name. In Idaho a man boasting of three initials is irreverently dubbed "Alphacet," and it's no more than he deserves.

There have been lots of men who amounted to something with only one name. There was Moses, for example. Would he have had any more dignity or influence if he'd signed his name J. Ezekiel Moses? And there was Solomon and Rameses and Alexander and Homer and Solon and no end of notables in the same category.

Kings and emperors, as a class, have fewer names than anybody else. No matter what silly queenmothers may happen to have them christened, when they become their own bosses they choose whatever names they like, and none of them chooses more than one. It's just plain George or Nicholas—not even an initial. And as for hyphens, who ever heard of a hyphenated king? You've got to get to the top, it seems, in order to find real democracy and simplicity in names.—Owensboro Messenger.

When Corsets Were Discarded.

Twice in their history have corsets been discarded or rendered negligible. In the seventeenth century, when whalebone corsets were quite the rage, Spain, Italy and the Netherlands, as if surfeited of such fashion, adopted a new standard of beauty. Full forms and rounded busts called for no artificial support, and the style of gowns was so altered as to meet this change.

A JOLLY COMEDIAN

In a Jolly Show Here Thursday Night.

The past season has developed an entirely new form of theatrical entertainment. It is nothing else than a musical farce. Someone conceived the idea of taking a brisk farce, bringing it up-to-date and interpolating musical numbers. The idea proved an immediate success. It is in this style of entertainment that Billy (Single) Clifford will come to Holland's Opera House on Thursday night, March 18.

The offering is called "Believe Me," being a lively farce, with a laugh in every line and interspersed choruses with no less than eighteen musical songs added for good measure. Billy is seen to the best possible advantage and is surrounded by an excellent company who sing and dance in a very acceptable manner, and a lady orchestra.

Clifford's lady band will give a free concert at the corner of Ninth and Main streets at 3:30 p. m.

Manager Shrode, of the Rex, surpasses all previous efforts with his program for tomorrow.

The great Itala photo spectacle, by D'Annunzio, Cabiria, will take three hours, with a cast of 5,000.

Its magnificence of action surpasses human belief. Everything happens except resurrection and ascension and that could be easily pictured by the almost omnipotent artistic privileges and qualities of the moving picture with chant.

D'Annunzio is in his element. He rides bareback and dumb over the mighty bulwarks of antiquity, striding the savage brutalities, the superstitions, the magnificent man-beast chances, like giant upon a leviathan. Sometimes he does such extravagant things that he is amusing. One sits breathless and wondering what on earth are under the seas are in the air more can this poet of degeneracy do and do with such superb masculinity and truth?

"CABIRIA" all told is only the tossing about of a beautiful little child from one catapult of human fanaticism and power to another; from one miracle of divine revelation to another; from one upheaval of nature in revolt to another. The child is merely a father in a perfect uproar of tumbling steeples and walls, spouting volcanoes, roaring fires, angry gods, slave mastodons and mighty feats of strength, battling with waves, overcoming gigantic obstructions, fighting mobs, tearing down dynasties, climbing, bursting bonds falling, rising, attacking danger without a qualm.

Farm and Fireside says: "Little wonder that first-class maple sugar syrups are scarce. Only one tree is tapped for every five people in our population. PLAN FOR CLEAN EGGS Sunshine Is Necessary for the Health of Laying Hens.

Poultryman Should Follow Nature's Plan and Make Winter Months Comfortable to Fowls—Furnish Plenty of Nests.

(By A. C. SMITH.)
Sunshine is absolutely necessary for the health and vigor of the laying hen. Low windows should be set so that the sun will shine into every part of the house during some part of the day. Roosts should be placed on a level, and not too high, as the hens are apt to injure themselves either by growing, falling or flying against a projection about the house. Keep the windows in the poultry house clean.

A Trap Nest With Door Closed.

Rub them repeatedly with old newspapers. Sunshine in winter is the greatest of tonics.

When poultrymen and farmers realize that the sooner they follow nature's plan and make the winter months as near like spring and summer months, the sooner they will realize the height of their ambition—winter eggs. Getting winter eggs is really quite easy if given a little thought and study. Using the gray matter in your skull will make you a successful poultryman.

Poultry keepers may easily reduce
the percentage of dirty or soiled eggs,
and losses entailed to insignificant figures.

First, an ample number of nests is,
of course, necessary, but an ample number means no more, than, and probably not as many as, are usually directed by poultry writers. Laying houses are, as a rule, provided with a sufficient number, but where the keeper falls down is in failing to supply enough nesting material and floor litter.

Obviously the nesting material must be clean, or the eggs become soiled by contact, and it must be sufficient in quantity, or the eggs are often broken by dropping upon the hard floor of the nest. In houses where the dropping boards are above the nests, and the custom is to sand the boards,

small stones often drop into the nest
and breakage results when newly laid eggs fall upon them. The condition of nests should be noticed daily, and the nesting material replenished when necessary. Plenty of nesting material prevents breakage and insures clean eggs.

An ample and clean litter on the floor is also very essential when an
A-1 clean product is sought. Particularly is this true when the hens

are allowed outdoors during wet weather. The litter acts as a foot mat for the hens on their way to the nests.

Clean eggs bring better prices than dirty ones.

Raise More Sheep.
The domestic wool clip does not begin to satisfy the home demand, and more and more we draw upon the foreign markets for our needs. The remedy is to raise more sheep.

Green Feed for Hens.
Sprouted oats are a splendid green feed for hens in winter and may be quite easily supplied on any farm.
They are fed when they have reached a height of about three inches.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Do You Continually Feel Sluggish, Disinterested?

If you do, it is probably caused by your liver. When the liver fails to perform its functions properly, the system becomes clogged with poisonous matter, that weighs you down mentally and physically.

The liver gets out of order very easily, and if neglected, chronic trouble usually results. Don't delay if you feel badly. You knowingly lay yourself open to life long pain,
when you allow yourself to continue in a run down condition. Cure yourself quickly and harmlessly with the natural vegetable remedy, LIV-VER-LAX. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect, of calomel.

Genuine LIV-VER-LAX bears the faction or money refunded. Insist

I. H. C. Corn Planter

This is the Corn Planter that has gained such a remarkable reputation in the past two years. It is the latest type machine for planting corn, peas and fertilizer. The variable drop permits of quick shift to 2, 3 or 4 kernels in a hill.
The two section cut off acts instantly. The duck bill valve kicks away the dirt from the boot. The equalizing spring carries the load. By means of a malleable iron crank connected with the lifting lever the marker is raised automatically and simultaneously with the raising of the runners.

We cannot praise this machine too highly.

Tobacco Planters

Last year many farmers profited by using a tobacco planter. Every farmer that plants as much as 20 acres of tobacco should have a planter.
This machine relieves that tired back and sets the plant better and at the time you and your plants are ready. Remember it is a difficult matter to get labor just at the time your plants are ready to set.

We have these machines in stock and would like to show you.

McCHESNEY ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Stands for Constitutional Amendment Submitting to the People Vote on State-Wide Prohibition of Sale of Liquor.

Says it Must Be Determined Whether They or the Whiskey Interests Shall Rule Kentucky.

With the declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as the chief plank in his platform, the Hon. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the State primary of next August.

Mr. McChesney declares that if nominated and elected, he will urge upon the General Assembly to submit to the people for their ratification an amendment to the Kentucky Constitution providing for State-wide prohibition. In the formal announcement of his candidacy, Mr. McChesney, who several years ago filled the offices of State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, promises an abatement of public expenditures where it can be properly done, and the further advancement of the present progress in educational and agricultural development.

His announcement is as follows:

"To the Democratic voters of Kentucky: After mature deliberation I have decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor in the primary to be held August 7, 1915. In making this announcement it is those whose support I seek that I briefly outline the policies I advocate.

I am in favor of state-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. If nominated and elected I shall urge upon the Legislature of 1916 the passage of an Act submitting a prohibition amendment to the Constitution to the people for their ratification. In view of the widespread and capital invested in the liquor business, however, I shall favor careful and rigid inspection of all departments of the State government with this purpose in view.

I congratulate the State on the great development in our public school system in recent years, and if elected I shall use every endeavor to further advance the cause of public education. Having devoted a large part of my life to the cause of the public schools, I am deeply interested in their continued growth.

The increased interest manifested over the State in improved methods of agriculture and in the construction of good roads is very gratifying. If elected I shall aid in every way possible in the furtherance of these great interests, so vital to the progress and welfare of the whole people.

I am in hearty sympathy with the progressive spirit which has marked the State's advance along many lines in recent years, and it shall be my ambition if elected to see this spirit yield a still greater fruitage in the agricultural, industrial and commercial development of the Commonwealth.

My record as Superintendent of Public Instruction and as Secretary of State is before the people for their judgment, and I shall enter into a detailed account of my services in these positions. The people of the State are more or less familiar with the record made, and I am willing to risk their judgment of my fitness for the office of Governor on that record.

During my term as Superintendent of Public Instruction the State per capita was increased largely, the teaching force was increased, and a more adequate and efficient educational progress made. At a provision in the Act giving a reasonable time, after the railroad law becomes operative, in order that those engaged in the business may adjust their affairs without suffering great inconvenience.

I have no fault to find with the County Unit Law. I have favored every advanced step taken in its various amendments. It is a step in the right direction, and has been a great blessing to the Commonwealth. Under it 106 counties have voted dry; but the remaining counties contain a very considerable part of the total population of the State. The present law seems inadequate to give relief to the people of most of these counties. And again, the liquor interests, instead of showing respect for the County Unit Law, and for the will of the people as expressed at the polls, have been contesting every election where the result was dry, and going into the courts with every possible technicality, in an effort to defeat the will of the people. Not only has this been a light of their wrath, expressed in the usual way, but they have made it their business to bitterly oppose every man who aspires to public office who does not take his orders from them. A temperance man can not run for any office in Kentucky, however humble, without feeling the weight of their wrath, expressed in the usual way. Their efforts to dominate the politics of the State have increased as county after county has been added to the dry column, until their influence has become a menace to popular government.

In view of all this it seems that there is but one solution to the problem, and that is to submit it to the whole people that we may know once and for all time whether the people or the liquor interests are to rule in Kentucky. Not only is this the logic of the situation, but it is absolutely fair. Who can be heard to say that the people as a whole haven't a right to pass on a question of vital importance to their moral and financial welfare? We submit good roads amendments and taxation amendments to the whole people—who not submit this question, intimately more vital to them?

As stated above, I am not unmindful of the property interests involved. It is to be regretted that moral reformers often bring financial loss to some, but the public conscience justifies the loss to the few when it means an infinitely greater saving to the mass. In half a dozen years, Christian civilization must not be retarded because a few men have invested their money in the business constituting the obstruction.

My familiarity with the financial affairs of the State, as a result of eight years' experience (from 1906 to 1914) as Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, and as a member of the Sinking Fund Board, leads me to the belief that such a revision of our taxation system can be made as will readily reduce the State debt, and make good any decrease in revenues that might arise from the loss of the tax on liquors. And this can be done without any increase of the tax rate. Saving State revenues is just as important as producing them. With the elimination of the liquor business from Kentucky the saving to the State in criminal prosecutions alone would be an enormous item, and go far toward a solution of the financial problem. If the money spent for liquor in Kentucky, and for criminal prosecutions growing out of its use can be saved, in half a dozen years we can relieve the financial situation of the State and build a magnificent road to every church and school house in the Commonwealth.

Another large saving can be accomplished by the elimination of all useless offices. If elected I shall insist on the

the close of my term I wrote the bill increasing the rural school term from five months to six, and the companion bill providing the funds for the extra month, and secured their passage by the Legislature. As Secretary of State I was a member of the Board which built the new Capitol, and was also a member of the Board which assessed all franchise taxes, which taxes were very largely increased during that term. The two administrations covered by those eight years marked an era of great prosperity in the governmental affairs of the State—a big state debt was paid off, the rural school term increased to six months, two State Normal Schools established, the State University put on a more comprehensive basis, a new Capitol built, many other progressive movements fostered, all without increasing the tax rate, and a full treasury turned over to the succeeding administration. I am proud to have had a part in making that record.

During the seven years since I retired from public office I have responded to every call of the Democratic party. During this time, to the serious neglect of my personal affairs, I have stamped the party's name on every campaign, giving my time and services to the success of the party's nominees.

My eight years' experience in public office, devoted to the cause of the Democratic party, and my knowledge of the affairs of the State government that ought to prove valuable to the Chief Executive. My service to my party since retiring from office has been continuous to some consideration. At this record as a public officer and as a private citizen, with whatever ability I may possess, I submit my candidacy to the Democracy of the State. If nominated and elected I shall devote my entire time and energy to the discharge of the duties of the office in an effort to promote the moral, educational and business interests of the Commonwealth, to the end that it may become a better place even than it is now in which to live.

Respectfully submitted,
H. V. McCHESNEY.

Forty-six years old, virile, enthusiastic, and of a ready wit, Mr. McChesney has made himself one of the best known Democrats in Kentucky through his activity in the interests of the party in every campaign since 1906. He entered public life at the age of 25 when he was elected County Superintendent of Livingston. He was re-elected to that office. Previous to that he had taught in Caldwell his native county; Crittendon, where he was married, Webster and Livingston.

From County Superintendent of Livingston he was promoted to the office of State Superintendent in 1906, running on the Goebel ticket. Four years later he was elected Secretary of State on the ticket with J. C. W. Beckum.

Their friendship has been continuous and close since that time. Mr. McChesney was chairman of the speakers' bureau of State headquarters in 1911 and, excepting Governor McCreary himself, made more speeches in the campaign than any other Democrat. He stamped the State with Mr. Beckum when the latter was elected United States Senator.

Probably no public man in the State is in more demand as a speaker on all sorts of occasions than Mr. McChesney, and his interests in affairs touching community life, as well as the welfare of the State, are well known in Frankfort, where he has resided and has been practicing law since leaving State office. He is at present a member of the City Board of Education, and Director of the Y. M. C. A., Vice-President of the Kentucky State Historical Society, and a deacon in the Baptist Church and President of its Sunday School.

He had gone back to the samples of twenty years ago to find something could not be found to suit the fancy of his customers. Green mixture ovals were also found. While the colors unearthed in this manner can be considered in scarcely any other light than that of staples, the change they offer is apt to prove an attractive one to buyers.—New York Times.

Princess

The Chaplin-Turpin comedy at the Princess today, is a side-splitter. There is literally a riot of fun when Charles Chaplin takes "A Night Out," which is the title of his second Essanay two-reel comedy. Thousands of photoplay enthusiasts as well as exhibitors have written Essanay telling of the great success of the play. Exhibitors who have run this comedy declare that it is the funniest they have ever seen, and that their spectators were convulsed with laughter. With Ben Turpin, Chaplin attempts to drink the town dry. They spill a pie over a giant, who hurls them out of the cafe into the street after nearly choking them to death. They manage to zig-zag their way to their hotel, where Chaplin is horrified by running across a woman in pajamas, with a pistol. The dog follows Chaplin to his room and the pajama clad woman chases after her pet. The terrified Chaplin takes refuge in his bath room. In the meantime the husband of the pajama clad woman returns and looks for his wife. She sees him through the crack of the door and slams it and hides. After the distracted husband runs down to the hotel office Chaplin kindly escorts the dog and woman to her room. Friend husband suddenly returns and Chaplin takes refuge in the bed. Husband sits down on the bed to take off his shoes and discovers Chaplin. He hauls him out and hurls him at the side of the wall with deadly intent. Chaplin is thrown through the bath room door and falls into the tub filled with water. After coming to the surface, spouting like a whale, explanations are in order. Mr. Chaplin decides that a night out once in a long, long while is quite sufficient.
